Minutes of the 14 March 1988 Meeting

1. An Executive meeting was held by the members of the Intelligence Research and Development Council (IR&DC) at 1330 hours on 14 March 1988, in Room 3E869, the Pentagon. The following principals or representatives were present: [redacted]

25X1

Mr. R. E. Hineman (Chairman), Deputy Director for Science and Technology, Central Intelligence Agency

Dr. Jack Vorona, Defense Intelligence Agency

[redacted] National Security Agency

25X1

Dr. Phillip Eckman, Central Intelligence Agency

LTG Edward Heinz, Director, Intelligence Community Staff

Mr. Jimmie Hill, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force

Mr. Thomas Handle, Office of Naval Intelligence

Cmdr Edmond Pope, Department of the Navy

Mr. Bruce Zimmerman, Department of the Army

Mr. William Bayse, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Mr. Craig Alderman, Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (Policy)

[redacted] Deputy Director, Intelligence Community Staff

25X1

Dr. Leonard Harris, National Aeronautics and Space Administration

2. Mr. Hineman opened the meeting by indicating that today the Council would first hear a presentation by Mr. John Piper of the Technical Security Division of the United States Secret Service concerning their research and development programs. Mr. Hineman then called on Mr. Piper to begin the discussion. [redacted]

3. Mr. Piper indicated that the Secret Service was created in 1865 due to the numerous currency problems which were plaguing the nation after the Civil War. In 1905 with the assassination of President McKinley the Service was given the added responsibility for protection of the President and in 1968 with the assassination of Robert Kennedy, the Service was charged with giving protection to the major political candidates. [redacted]

4. Currently the Service is comprised of 5,000 employees with 900 being uniformed, and has an annual budget of about 385 million. In 1986 Congress gave the Service jurisdiction to investigate computer crime and credit card fraud. These jurisdictions are shared with the FBI. Concerning criminal activity Mr. Piper noted that last year they made 9,000 arrests, seized 115 million in counterfeit US currency in the United States, and 50 million overseas.
